

Business Speaks at the State House, a gathering of over 400 of South Carolina's leading business people, constitutional officers and members of the General Assembly, will be held January 29, 2013 at the Columbia Marriott. Business Speaks at the State House provides a briefing on the 2013 Competitiveness Agenda, a look at what's ahead for the General Assembly, a question and answer session with Senate and House members and networking opportunities. Important business issues such as health care costs, infrastructure needs, energy concerns, and workforce development issues will be discussed.

This year during the town hall meeting, we will honor legislators who scored 100% in the Chamber's 2012 Legislative Scorecard and are a true friend of business. These leaders will be presented the Business Advocate Award. Please visit www.scchamber.net for more information.
